Purpose and Intended Audience

This meeting will be of particular interest and value to the practicing ophthalmologist. Participants will learn about the latest developments and techniques in diagnosing and managing common diseases of the eye. In addition to the lectures, interesting case presentations will be offered for analysis and discussion.

Educational Objectives

Following the meeting, participants should be able to:

- Describe the latest treatment for age-related macular degeneration
- Cite key points regarding the latest treatment for Graves' orbitopathy
- Interpret an optical coherence tomography scan
- Identify and employ methods for treating ocular histoplasmosis
- Explain the role of vascular endothelial growth factor inhibitors for central retinal vein occlusion
