

Amanda's Bracelets

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven. Ecclesiastes 3:1

This is a wonderful idea thought up by one of my niece's fellow students. This is not only a way to remember, but to revel in the glory of the Lord and cherish everyday of life that we are blessed with* * This is the excerpt from the site Amanda's Bracelets.....*

Hello everyone. As you know I have made simple beaded bracelets for Amanda McDaniel to remind us to keep her in our thoughts and to help with her family's financial needs. Thanks to every one of you, we have raised over $300 for her family. Let's not stop there.

Every month the color of the bead changes. Sometimes Amanda picks the color. A bracelet cost $1, all of the money goes to Amanda. Buying a bracelet, we all can keep her in our thoughts, and also reminds us to pray for her as she battles her cancer.

Each month an email will be sent telling you how much money we raised and what the new color of the bead will be. Please let others know about Amanda's Bracelets as we work together helping Amanda.

You can buy them from me at school, send me a message or any other random places these bracelets may end up. Let me know if you have an idea, anything would be great. Thank you so much!

Amanda is now 18 and has been battling osteosarcoma since 2006. We believe that she may be losing her battle at this time. If you feel inclined to "get to know" Amanda you can visit her blog site at:

I am having Molly ship me 100 bracelets from Missouri, because I know we can help. The bracelets are $1 each. If you feel inclined to pay more, that is all the more blessing for this family, as it has been a long hard road full of financial bumps. If you would like to make out a check it is to be made out directly to Amanda McDaniel. ALL proceeds go straight to Amanda and the family. Please share this with others. I will be collecting at work and church and will send entire amount down to Missouri monthly.

Thank you and Bless you!!!
